

VIII

stereotactic body radiotherapy for the early stage lung cancer. As the first book to the series, we hope it will give you a glance of the coming changes.

The book series will be written by a group of individual experts who are willing to contribute medical reviews and comments for those readers who are specially interested in clinical research and medical reviews. While the book in your hand may be about a difficult subject, we do hope we have presented it in an accessible manner. We would be overjoyed if it can, in any way, bring you thought and inspiration.

Stephen D. Wang
Founder and CEO,
AME Publishing Company